

QlikTech, Path Infotech announce strategic alliance

Press Trust of India / Hyderabad June 30, 2009, 16:54 IST

QlikTech, a global business intelligence (BI) company has entered into a strategic partnership with Path Infotech, the leading provider of software solutions and services in India.

"Customers will benefit from the combined power of QlikTech's business intelligence offerings and Path Info Tech's rich expertise in providing software services", said QlikTech Regional Manager-India and South Asia, Raghunathan, in a release here today.

He added, "Together, QlikTech and Path Infotech are both focused on enabling Indian businesses utilise their IT implementations to deliver business value".

As businesses look for new ways to increase service levels, reduce operational costs and improve productivity, deriving intelligence/answers from business data would be the key growth drive.

"We have a strong reputation of delivering high-quality solutions to over 300 global customers. We were looking for a simple BI analysis tool to complement our own offerings and provide our customers with a solution which could clearly demonstrate a financial return to the business", said Path Infotech Director-Sales and Marketing, Pankaj Ratra.
