QlikTech, Path Infotech announce alliance

CHENNAI: Business intelligence (BI) company QlikTech announced a strategic partnership with Path Infotech, a software solutions and services provider. QlikTech's business analysis solution, QlikView, is a business intelligence software that puts business users in control lets them explore their data with freedom and get the answers they need to take immediate action. The software uses patented 'associative analysis' to connect data from any source and it exploits 'in-memory' technology for rapid analysis and scalable development, says a release. — Corporate Reporter
